

The recent statements of alleged victim 9 on ESPN.com are indicative of the absurdity of accusations made by many. If one read the trial transcripts, you would see he said he came to our home every weekend for four years. Now, he tops that with stating I took him to lunch with Joe Paterno. How could (can) anyone believe these stories? The only time I was ever at lunch with Joe Paterno was with a recruit, while coaching. He didn't play football, and I wasn't coaching in those years.
